

Lesson 7 Unit 4 What
it can do.

We can see what happens when nations break faith. But nations are only groups of individuals. Therefore the individual must be strong in faith
and his nation will not fail his place in God's world.

of practicing Christian faith there may be no material reward
no lost will and testament leaving huge fortunes to heirs to fight about. No large farms for families to quarrel over the division thereof but there will be a rich legacy left to a rising generation that is going to need faith

Mo.

Parents

One cannot honestly strive to raise a family to know and have faith in God and His Son Jesus Christ without at the same time saving ~~themselves~~ ^{their} ~~unself~~ ^{unself} ~~leavenword~~ ^{leavenword} to.

A. J.

Portion of Second James 2nd chapter }
verses 14 - 26 }

We have to exemplify our faith by our actions in everyday work.
not ostentatiously
but quietly, doing the good we can where we can and taking care that we pass on to others that faith ^{which} ~~that~~ the world today so sorely needs. To those

V. 17

Even so, faith if it
have not works, is dead, being alone.

Such a faith is born of richness of the Spirit of God indwelling in a man
and quietly reaching out and touching all those who will let themselves be susceptible to the influence of a good man or woman.

I think ~~it~~ that is one of the meanings
the interpretation we could give to the

to others who knew this old proverb they would tell me the same thing. That although he possessed little that this world calls worth while he gave greater riches during his lifetime to those whom he came in contact with than many a richer
man of great material possessions ever did.

that overcame every obstacle, made many lasting friendships, gave good advice to the younger people, was never obtrusive yet reached out and built a legacy for many
and many a lad & lass who came under no statutory "will" or last testament.

I am sure if I talked up and remember if they like someone. What I remember most perhaps was the old gentleman abiding Faith. A faith in the infinite Goodness of God, never expressed in so many words

but always exemplified in all his everyday work.

No great riches in material things but a richness of faith.

Quiet Sundays with a small family gathered round when a neighbor's son was treated as one of their own. Of Sunday suppers when grace was said before meals. Of stories told of the early days and of the breaking of land with oxen and how bad and big the mosquitoes were. All these things children store in the way of worldly goods or wealth. Certainly I was no beneficiary under his written "last testament." But under his living testament I found myself remembering many things. When I summed them all

up I was surprised at what this neighbor
had unconsciously done for me. I recalled

often during a lifetime However in this instance I caught myself wondering if the speaker had really thought things through. If he had I doubt that he would have said just those words.

Certainly the old man whose passing and whose will were being commented on, left little

A last will & Testament.

Not long ago while speaking of an old pioneer who had passed on someone remarked "Well you know the old chap didn't amount to much, he sure didn't leave much in his will to anyone."

We hear remarks of that sort quite

The Legacy of Faith

What can I leave to my children?