Dear Leslie -

How I love your letter - Thanks so much!

I'm in trouble & that's why I haven't written -

Adrian Sumner Homes told me I had to move him to a more skilled nursing home. I went go into detail but what a job it was.
I just had her in there a few days & she passed on. - Oct 5.

At the same time, my father found he couldn't make it into kissing room anymore at Villa Del Olispa. So you can only receive a tray for a couple of days & then move on. So, I brought him home. He seemed to get worse & so asked to go to the hospital. We took him Thursday & have been visiting there since. They are still evaluating him & it may be that when he fell in his room last summer & broke a rib, it may have been more than a rib he broke, so we have to wait & see.

I told my nephew & niece about your letter & sent them photostats of your photos - including all the Nevills, as they are Turnbulls, too. Isabel Turnbull Nevill is their grandmother. Our side is James R. Turnbull. Later a trust it was to get a first hand view of the castle completed.

He is your mother, please tell her about Li and give her my best love.

Love to all of you -

He was 99 yrs!
Dad is 101 yrs!
Well! Jessie

Dear Leslie -

I'm sorry to be so slow, but this year is just getting away so fast!
I know I promised to write you right after Xmas, but the time somehow had slipped away.

I lost February, as Dad had the Hong Kong flu & I brought him home, as he is in a Board & Care - not ~~not~~ running home! I pulled him through, but believe me, it wasn't easy.

March we were called to go & stand in line to get a house we want.

They are building some new patio houses in San Juan Capistrano just above the golf course. It was really a weird deal! They insisted that you come on a certain day & get in line.

2/ This included staying all night, too.
We figured we were too old for that stuff, so we hired "Quint" and sleeping bag at $5 a day & night.

It turned out that they told us to arrive on Monday about 4 p.m.
& when I awoke up there with Quint, he found all the guys had been there since 4:30 a.m. in the middle of the night. So when they lined up Quint was #13. Then they had to sign in every day for the next two weeks.

After that they had to stay in the car for 2 days & two nights. We sure were glad we had Quint.

It all happened about March 17, so they gave everyone a Corn Beef and Cabbage Dinner ($5), which we went to & took Quint and another friend of mine in line.

I know that you must be wondering if houses are that scarce here. Well, they aren't, but the one I saw & I wanted was so that hell ~~was~~ above the gay course, and so that is why we put up with it. I am gone publicly drunk!

3/ By the time Dave was called, we figured we'd just have to sell our bonds first before buying the other, so we decided to wait for the 2nd phase, which should be ready about September. By that time we hoped we have sold our Bonds.
By being in line, we qualified ourselves for the 2nd phase & I think Dave is #3 this time. The man said we would be able to get any choice at that time. Let's hope we sell our Bonds fast. We ought to be able to because there aren't any 3 bedrooms available. We showed it this weekend, but I think it was kind of a fiasco!

Mom and Steve to be gone before we know it, after all that house stuff! Now it is April. Did you have a good Easter?

4/ I was pleased to hear that your mother was in Maple Ridge on her way back from Victoria. I believe Pete (my brother) said on the phone that they & your mother were going to go to their place for tea! He had finally gone to your ^{NEICE'S} ~~sister's~~ funeral parlor as one of his friends passed on & so he introduced himself to her. I was so glad he finally met them.

April 6 -

Here I am again, I write most of that letter at the Fleming Aid man's office on my knee. Hope it makes sense. We had Dad yesterday.

How is everything with you & your family. You know I had planned to send Mike a birthday card, as I remember it was his birthday when you were here. I had Feb. 14 marked in my birthday book & then I wondered if it was March you were here! I can't seem to get the date right in my mind.

3/ We are having simply gorgeous weather. It's just like summer. In fact, we are worried we'll have a drought.

They are putting a new roof on our building & oh! boy! is it noisy. It's a tin & gravel roof. It's all going on over our heads, because they come up to the top of the building in front of our den window & they have a big ~~stack~~^{pipe} going down in front of our condo. They have been at it about a week now & I guess it will take another week.

I just asked Dave if we had any news & he said "no, just the house deal & the roofing". It is hard keeping the place spotless, so I hope it sells soon.

By the way, my niece, Susan, is very interested to learn something of the family tree - that is the Leslies

6/ So, if you get any info from Mrs. Leslie, we would be most interested. I know some of it, but certainly not all. I keep thinking about the castle you visited & wonder if it's ever made it over there again.

I must close now. Please give my love to the children and your husband. Maybe you will visit us in San Juan Capistrano on the hill, above the golf course.
Wouldn't that be fun.

Love,
Jessie

Quwe sends his love -

P.S. Is your name spelled Rightson or Wrightson? Can't find it in my letter.

P.S. Love to your mother!
